AMERICAN TROUBADOUR

The Life and Music of The International Legend

One-Hour HD TV Special / Feature length for Blu-ray

This intimate backstage portrait and concert film opens and closes with Don McLean's triumphant 2011 Glastonbury Festival performance before a roaring crowd of 125,000.

It's the story — told in concerts, in interviews with pop superstars, and most revealingly, by Don himself — of this famously private, world-renowned singer/songwriter.

Live performances of Don's worldwide hits include
American Pie ... Vincent ('Starry, Starry Night')
... Castles in the Air ... and Crying

These, along with the more than 300 songs he has written, have earned Don McLean a dedicated fan base that stretches around the globe and fuels his popular tours. American Pie was selected as the fifth greatest song of the 20th century, and it is surely one of the best-known popular songs on earth.

Produced and directed by four-time Emmy® Award winner Jim Brown, whose work includes: Pete Seeger: The Power of Song, The Weavers: Wasn't That A Time, and A Vision Shared: Tribute to Woody Guthrie and Leadbelly. Commentators include American historian Douglas Brinkley, Brian Wilson, the songwriting genius behind the Beach Boys, and Mike Mills of R.E.M., who credits American Pie as having inspired his own entire career.

In this definitive retrospective, you'll hear moving versions of Don's megahits performed at different times throughout his career, and see how his poetic blend of pop, folk, and rock and roll came to be.

The musical journey of one of the world's most beloved and successful musicians.
