

Introducing Our New Host!

Rachel DeMita

“ I’m so honored to join Sports Stars of Tomorrow as the new host! In its 20-year history, legends like Pat Summerall and Charles Davis have introduced us to athletes before they made the pros — from Matthew Stafford to Kyrie Irving to Paige Bueckers. I’m thrilled to start this next chapter and spotlight the next generation of talented athletes and share the stories behind their hard work and dedication. ”

About Rachel

Rachel DeMita is a former Division I basketball player turned sports broadcaster and digital creator, best known as host and co-producer of NBA 2KTV. She’s worked with ESPN and Bleacher Report, partnered with brands like Adidas, Delta, T-Mobile, and Google, and this season has produced content alongside the San Antonio Spurs. She also hosts the podcast Courtside Club, which entered a licensing deal with SiriusXM in January 2026. Rachel reaches over 2 million followers across her platforms.